ARTICLE 1 – DEFINITION OF THE SERVICE PROVIDED

The service is built around 3 offers (basic, pro, business), each being a superset of the former.

ARTICLE 1.1 – Service provided to all customers

FREEXIAN maintains private Debian package repositories containing Debian packages for multiple PHP releases and multiple Debian/Ubuntu releases, along with a number of PECL extensions (that should work with all the PHP releases provided in the service). The Customer will be granted access to those repositories and can use those Debian packages for their own needs.

FREEXIAN may work with sub-contractors to maintain the packages and provide this service.

The Customer is not allowed to make those Debian packages publicly available. With a subscription to the "basic" offer, the Customer also doesn't have the right to privately share those packages to external entities/individuals.

ARTICLE 1.2 – Additional service for Customers that fund PHP releases or PECL extensions

Any Customer can fund PHP releases and/or PECL extensions, though the associated cost will vary depending on the selected offer (see article 2 on pricing) and the target Debian release(s).

When the Customer funds a PHP release (on any Debian release), FREEXIAN will regularly update the Debian packages of the corresponding PHP release on the corresponding Debian release(s), to integrate new upstream releases and new security updates. FREEXIAN will also monitor CVE affecting those PHP releases and will try to provide security fixes during the 5 first years after their publication

FREEXIAN SARL does not guarantee that all security issues will be fixed. Each issue will be reviewed and triaged, some may be classified as not worthy of being fixed. Some might not be fixable at all, in which cases the security announce will try to provide mitigation techniques.

FREEXIAN SARL does not guarantee any timeline for the publication of a security fix. However, FREEXIAN SARL will aim to :

- provide updates within 5 business days for CVE with a CVSS score greater or equal to 9 ;
- provide updates within 10 business days for CVE with a CVSS score between 7 and 9 ;
- provide updates within 20 business days for CVE with a CVSS score between 4 and 7 ;

The Customer recognizes that this contract is a best-effort contract. FREEXIAN SARL will do its best to collectively serve the PHP LTS Customers by providing timely security updates for the funded PHP releases and PECL extensions.

ARTICLE 1.3 – Additional features for subscribers of the pro and business offers

1/ The Customer will have the possibility to setup an internal mirror of the package repositories. The Customer must ensure that this mirror is not publicly accessible. Its access should be restricted to the parties that this contract allows. Failure to do so is a cause of termination of the contract.

2/ The Customer has the right to privately share the Debian packages with its own customers. Typically, web hosters and web agencies that subscribe to this offer can configure web servers of their customers so that they use the packages provided by Freexian (ideally through their internal mirror).

3/ The Customer can ask FREEEXIAN for technical support related to this service. With the “pro” offer, the Customer benefits from one hour of free email support per year. With the “business” offer, the Customer benefits from two hours of free email or phone support per year. Supplementary hours of technical support will be invoiced at the rate of 100 EUR/hour.

4/ The Customer of the “business” offer can request read-only access to the git repositories used by FREEEXIAN to maintain the various Debian packages provided as part of this service.

5/ The Customer of the “business” offer can request to be listed on a dedicated page on FREEEXIAN's website as a way to prove to their customers that they are working with us to ensure support of a wide range of PHP versions.

ARTICLE 2 – PRICING

The three offers differentiate themselves on the service level provided to the Customer (see article 1) but also on the number of PHP releases and PECL extensions that are “funded” as part of it.

Whatever the base offer, the Customer can fund supplementary PHP releases : there's a fixed fee to fund a PHP release on all supported Debian releases and all supported Ubuntu releases, and another fixed fee to extend the support of a PHP release to an ELTS Debian release or an ESM Ubuntu release. A supported Debian release is a release hosted in the official ftp-master.debian.org repository with security updates provided on security.debian.org. An ELTS Debian release is any former Debian release that is supported through Freexian's Extended Long Term Support service. An ESM Ubuntu release is any former Ubuntu release that is supported through Canonical's Extended Security Maintenance (<https://ubuntu.com/security/esm>).

The Customer can also fund supplementary PECL extensions. The table below sums up all the prices for one year : the base offer and the various options.

	Freexian's PHP LTS Offer
	Basic	Pro	Business
Number of PHP releases funded	0	1	6
Number of PECL extensions funded	1	3	12
Pricing per year
Base offer	250 €	6000 €	12,500 €
Funding for an additional PHP release	4000 €	2000 €	1250 €
Extension of support of a PHP release to an ELTS Debian release or an ESM Ubuntu release	1500 €	1500 €	750 €
Additional PECL extension	150 EUR

The above prices are net, without VAT and excluded of bank fees.

ARTICLE 3 – SUPPORT PERIOD

This service is managed with fixed periods of 6 months: from January 1st to June 30th June and from July 1st to December 31st.

ARTICLE 4 – SUPPORTED PHP AND DEBIAN/UBUNTU RELEASES

The set of PHP releases and Debian/Ubuntu releases, and their respective status, can be adjusted between two support periods. At the same time, the Customer can also tweak the list of PHP releases and PECL extensions that they are funding.

A given Debian release is available in this service as long as it is supported either by the Debian community (usually for the 5 first years after its publication) or by Freexian's ELTS service (after the 5 initial years).

Ubuntu LTS releases are made available in this service as long as they are supported either by the Ubuntu community (usually for the 5 first years after its publication) or by Canonical's ESM service (after the 5 initial years).

A given PHP release is available and supported at least 5 years after its publication, provided that there are Customers funding the given PHP release. After the 5 initial years, Freexian will aim to keep the funded PHP releases available even when they can no longer be supported from a security perspective. FREEXIAN will notify end of availability of any PHP release at least one year before said date.

When a new Debian/Ubuntu release comes out, the set of PHP versions that will be supported on this release is evaluated and communicated, there's no guaranty that all funded PHP versions will be available on the new Debian release.

When a new PHP release comes out, Freexian will aim to make it available on all supported Debian and Ubuntu releases, though it might not be possible for some of the older Debian/Ubuntu releases which are past their 5 initial years.

ARTICLE 5 – SUBSCRIPTION

The Customer can subscribe to the service at any time, the duration of its initial subscription will be adjusted so that the service ends at the end of a support period (and the price will be adjusted pro-rata temporis). The Customer can decide whether he wants to subscribe for a single support period, or for multiple ones.

ARTICLE 6 – INVOICING

If the amount of an invoice goes below 750 EUR (either because it's an initial invoice and the current support period is almost over, or because the Customer opted for the "basic" offer), then the Customer will be invoiced for the current support period and the following one, at once.

ARTICLE 7 – RENEWAL AND CANCELLATION

The contract is automatically renewed after the support period. To this end, FREEXIAN SARL will emit a new invoice in the last 60 days of the subscription.

The Customer can opt-out of this automatic renewal by requesting it by email to sales@freexian.com. In that case, FREEXIAN SARL will request confirmation before emitting a new invoice.

The Customer can cancel the support contract at any time by sending an email to sales@freexian.com. Once canceled, no new invoices will be emitted, any pending invoice will be reversed. However no money will be given back after payment even if the support period is not over yet.

ARTICLE 8 – SUSPENSION / TERMINATION

When the Customer has canceled the contract or indicated that they would not renew the contract, the benefits of the service described in article 1 will go away at the end of the support periods that have been already paid.

When the Customer has broken their obligations of not sharing the packages provided by Freexian and/or of restricting access to any mirror that they setup, FREEXIAN has the right to terminate the contract and immediately cut access to the package repositories. For Customers of the "pro" and "business" offers, FREEXIAN will usually issue a warning indicating that the Customer has 7 days to resolve the issue. If the issue is resolved in that period, then the service can continue as usual. When not fixed in that delay or on renewed breach, FREEXIAN might terminate the contract without issuing any further warning.

When the Customer has not paid a renewal invoice before the start of the new support period, the contract will be immediately suspended but the access to the repositories will be maintained during the first month. If the invoice is still not paid after this delay, then FREEXIAN can decide to terminate the contract and cut access to the repositories.

ARTICLE 9 – CONFIDENTIALITY

FREEXIAN SARL will only use the Customer Data to provide the Services and for administrative work.

ARTICLE 10 – GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

This contract and any dispute or claim arising out of or in connection with it or its subject matter or formation shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of France, to the exclusion of conflict of law rules.

ARTICLE 11 – FORCE MAJEURE

FREEXIAN SARL won't be held liable for any delays or failure in performance of any part of the Service, from any cause beyond its control. This includes, but is not limited to, war, terrorist acts, riots, fires, earthquakes, nuclear accidents, floods, strikes, and acts of hackers, or third-party internet service providers.
