PatBase is a tried and trusted primary search tool used by top corporations and law firms worldwide. A robust platform from which to search, review, share and analyse business-critical patent information.

Produced by IP specialists Minesoft in partnership with RWS Group, PatBase is a global patent database covering over 100 authorities. The database hosts 111+ million patent and related documents organised into 57+ million patent families to reduce duplication and save time whilst searching.

For users interested in accessing the same comprehensive data as PatBase, with a more streamlined interface Minesoft created PatBase Express. Designed to make patent information accessible throughout the company to users at all levels.

PatBase Analytics is fully integrated into PatBase. Users can analyse patent data from up to 100,000 families at once, directly from their search results. Patent data can be visualised through detailed and transparent graphs to extract meaningful insights, gain competitive intelligence and understand the landscape.
