Designed as monthly seminar sessions

Complements nursing orientation and specialty training, with a different focus

Can be customized to hospitals, systems and other care delivery settings

In today's value-driven health care environment, access to proven resources and performance management data to maximize your care team's performance and reduce turnover is more important than ever. A 10-year panel study of new nurses found that 17.5 percent of them quit within their first year.¹

Through the Vizient/AACN Nurse Residency Program™, we deliver the industry's most trusted and timely insights to help you manage and align your care teams for high-quality, efficient patient care. Developed jointly by Vizient® and the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN), the Nurse Residency Program is a data-driven solution that allows participating organizations to focus on retaining new nurses by offering a widely accepted curriculum, the ability to benchmark their performance against that of select peers, and opportunities to network with others in the Nurse Residency Program.

Retention of nurses: signature Nurse Residency Program outcome

The Nurse Residency Program helps participants fulfill the third recommendation set forth by the Institute of Medicine — that health care organizations should take action to support nurses' completion of a transition-to-practice program and that organizations already offering nurse residency programs should evaluate the effectiveness of those programs.
