I. ABOUT THE AWARDS PROGRAM

- A. The DoD Media Awards competition honors excellence among military and civilian broadcast journalists, graphic designers, writers, photographers, public affairs (PA) and visual information (VI) practitioners, mass communication specialists and videographers. The awards are administered by the Defense Media Activity under the authority of Department of Defense Directive 5105.74, “Defense Media Activity (DMA),” paragraph E3.1.22.
- B. PA and VI representatives of each Military Service created and approved entry requirements and category descriptions for the 2021 competition.
- C. There are nine categories in the 2021 competition. 1. Chief Master Sgt. Douglas W. Morrel Media Awards (U.S. Air Force)
 2. Maj. Gen. Keith L. Ware Communication Awards Competition (U.S. Army)
 3. Chief Journalist Alex Haley Awards (U.S. Coast Guard)
 4. Visual Information and Excellence in Communication (VIEC) Awards (U.S. Marine Corps)
 5. Russell Egnor Navy Media Awards (U.S. Navy)
 6. Defense Media Merit Awards (DMMA). Sponsored by the Defense Media Activity, the DMMA competition is open to U.S. government civilian employees assigned to defense agencies, DoD field activities, combatant commands and joint task forces to submit their individual work products. These organizations also submit their team-produced products to the unit award categories.
- B. The Military Services are responsible for establishing Service-specific rules and procedures to judge and select their qualified entries for submission to the DoD Media Awards competition. The Services also will ensure military nominees meet quality force standards for their respective service prior to their entrance to the DoD Media Awards competition.
- C. The Defense Media Activity is responsible for establishing rules and procedures to judge and select qualified entries from the DMMA competition for submission to the DoD Media Awards competition. U.S. government civilian employees assigned to the Defense Media Activity's military production divisions are ineligible to submit their individual and unit entries to the Military Services' competitions. They enter the DMMA competition and must refer to the DMMA competition rules for entry information.
- D. Products entering the competition must be the work of active-duty, Reserve, and National Guard members of the Armed Service as well as U.S. government civilian employees with the photographer, journalist, photojournalist, videographer, broadcast journalist, graphic artist, mass communication specialist, public affairs specialist or equivalent occupation specialty. Products created by service members who leave the Armed Forces during the year may enter the competition as long as the material submitted was completed in its entirety while the individuals were on active duty or in a Reserve or National Guard status and the product fulfills other criteria as specified throughout this guidance.
- E. The Military Services and the Defense Media Activity can enter products created by individuals in any award category as long as these individuals carry one of the occupation specialties listed in the previous paragraph. For example, graphics products created by a photographer or journalist may enter the graphic designer of the year category; video products created by a graphic designer or journalist may compete in the videographer of the year category; and so forth.
- F. Products produced by personnel assigned to the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Civil Air Patrol are prohibited from competing unless they meet the eligibility criteria stated in paragraph D of this section.

- G. Products produced by personnel assigned to “Stars and Stripes” newspapers are not eligible to participate. Non-appropriated fund (NAF) products and NAF personnel are also ineligible.
- H. Products created by government contractor employees are not authorized to compete.
- I. Products created by non-U.S. government employees, also known as local national employees, are not authorized to compete.
- J. Civilian employees assigned to combatant commands, defense agencies, DoD field activities and joint task forces, must refer to the DMMA competition rules for entry information.
- K. Army and Air National Guard members and U.S. government civilian staff members assigned to Army and Air National Guard units must refer to the Air Force, Army and DMMA rules for entry information.
- L. Reserve members will enter through their respective Service competition.

V. ENTRY CRITERIA

- B. All products must support or contribute to organizational communication objectives and meet the highest standards of production, execution and professional excellence. Products must convey, by content and delivery, relevant information that supports the command’s information and/or mission needs and, therefore, must be authorized products approved for public release. Consequently, all products must have military relevance.
- C. No single product may be entered more than once.
- D. Entries to the Defense Communicator of the Year category may be from a military member or a U.S. government civilian employee as long as the entrant meets the eligibility criteria listed in Section IV. The entrant is also eligible to enter only one additional category (either the graphic designer, photographer, videographer or writer of-the-year category) during the same competition year. Products may not be used more than once per paragraph C of this section. Entries found to contain the same products will be disqualified from the Defense Communicator of the Year and the other of-the-year category. If duplicate products are discovered, the Military Services and Defense Media Activity will not be allowed to replace the duplicate product nor will they be allowed to submit a replacement entry.
- E. Individuals who are not entering the Defense Communicator of the Year category may enter more than one of the following categories: graphic designer, photographer, videographer or writer of the year. Products may not be used more than once per paragraph C of this section. Entries found to contain the same products will be disqualified from all categories. If duplicate products are discovered, the Military Services and Defense Media Activity will not be allowed to replace the duplicate nor will they be allowed to submit a replacement entry.

- F. Each entry requires multiple products highlighting the entrant's work. In order to create the entry, each product must be uploaded and published to DVIDS as a separate file.
- G. Each graphic, photo or video product must contain an embedded caption and other required metadata. Also assign a Visual Information Record Identification Number (VIRIN) as required in the DoD Visual Information Style Guide and Change 2 to DoD Instruction 5040.02, "Visual Information," dated April 23, 2018. - H. All products must comply with federal law and DoD policy. See Appendix A.

VI. ENTRY DISQUALIFICATION AND REJECTION

- A. Products entered by personnel who do not meet eligibility requirements listed in Section IV will be disqualified.

- B. The Military Services and Defense Media Activity will submit a list of their nominees by March 30, 2022 and will ensure military nominees meet quality force standards prior to submission. Information required:

1. Entrant's first name, middle initial, last name
 2. Rank for military members
 3. Unit Name (do not abbreviate) and unit mailing address
 4. The DVIDS Awards submission number for each entry as well as the product ID number and public URL for each product in the entry.
- C. Should a name on the submission list be different from the name associated with the product in DVIDS, the name associated with the entrant's DVIDS profile will take precedence. Should the unit's name and address differ from that listed in DVIDS, the information in DVIDS will take precedence.

VIII. AWARDS

- Any of the candidate's choices may not be a photo series.
- Do not extract and submit component elements of a product as a candidate's choice if that product in its entirety is being submitted by the entrant to this or another category. For example, do not extract and submit as a logo or other graphic from a multimedia product if the entire multimedia product is being submitted as a candidate's choice to this or another category. This rule, however, does not prohibit individuals from submitting a graphic element extracted from a team-produced video, a multimedia product or a video credited to another person, but the extracted element must be the work of the entrant and it must have been uploaded and published to DVIDS as a separate file.

B. Civilian Graphic Designer of the Year

- Do not extract and submit component elements of a multimedia product, video story or video spot as one of the six graphic design products if the multimedia product, video story or video spot in its entirety is being submitted by the entrant to another category. This does not prohibit individuals from extracting a graphic element they created for a team-produced product or a product credited to another individual, but the extracted element must be the work of the entrant.
- Do not extract and submit component elements from a layout & design product as a separate product if the layout & design product in its entirety is being entered by the entrant to this or other category. - Do not extract and submit component elements of a multimedia product, video story or video spot as one of the six graphic design products if the multimedia product, video story or video spot in its entirety is being submitted by the entrant to another category. This does not prohibit individuals from extracting a graphic element they created for a team-produced product or a product credited to another individual, but the extracted element must be the work of the entrant.
- Do not extract and submit component elements from a layout & design product as a separate product if the layout & design product in its entirety is being entered by the entrant to this or other category.
