

Nicholas T. Tsaveas

Nicholas T. Tsaveas was born in Athens in 1959. He was educated in Economics at the Universities of Athens and Cambridge, from which he received his PhD in 1989. He has worked at the Foundation of Economic and Industrial Research (IOBE) in Greece and at the International Monetary Fund. He joined the Bank of Greece in 2000 as a Special Advisor and since 2009 is the Director of the Financial Stability Department. He is currently a member of the Banking Supervision Committee of the ECB and an alternate member of the EFC.