THE VOA CHARTER

President Gerald Ford signed the VOA Charter into law in 1976. It protects the independence and integrity of VOA programming.

1. VOA will serve as a consistently reliable and authoritative source of news. VOA news will be accurate, objective, and comprehensive.
2. VOA will represent America, not any single segment of American society, and will therefore present a balanced and comprehensive projection of significant American thought and institutions.
3. VOA will present the policies of the United States clearly and effectively, and will also present responsible discussions and opinion on these policies.

VOA PRODUCTS AND PROGRAMS

- VOA broadcasts more than 2,300 hours of radio and television programming each week to an estimated global audience of 311.8 million people.
- Language services use their websites and social media platforms such as Facebook, Twitter and YouTube to share content and interact with the audience.
- VOA's world-renowned music and English-language learning programs are enjoyed by millions of people around the world.
- Journalists in VOA's 30,000 square foot Newscenter work around the clock with a global network of correspondents to provide comprehensive news and analysis on key issues, U.S. government policies, and cultural developments.
- VOA programs are delivered on satellite, cable, shortwave, FM, medium wave, streaming audio and video to more than 3,500 media outlets worldwide.

“The news may be good. The news may be bad.
We shall tell you the truth.”

– William Harlan Hale, First VOA Broadcast (1942)

VOA is one of the largest multimedia news organizations in the world.

VOA AND TECHNOLOGY

- VOA has the largest integrated digital audio system in the world.
- A network of transmitting stations operated by the U.S. Agency for Global Media, along with some leased stations, sends VOA's programs instantaneously around the world.
- The website, VOAnews.com, provides a wide range of English-language news reports and serves as a portal to homepages of all 47 languages broadcast by VOA, as well as other information about VOA.
- A state-of-the-art digital asset management system enables VOA journalists to record, view and edit video, deliver content to studio control rooms, write scripts and search commercial newswires in a single program.
