

Friends,

As we approach the end of 2021, I want to let you know how great a pleasure it has been to serve you this year.

As your Representative, I have striven to best serve you and your family to the best of my abilities here in Washington.

Our country has faced a litany of challenges this past year. From COVID continuing its march through our communities, to Critical Race Theory being taught in our schools, to a disastrous withdrawal from Afghanistan, to an ongoing border crisis, along with skyrocketing inflation and supply chain shortages. These problems have only worsened as the Biden Administration has ignored every problem America is facing.

Despite the administration's intransigence, I've continued fighting for you in Congress. I introduced 13 bills this year – and cosponsored an additional 181 bills – all with the goal of putting power back into your hands.

We've fought tooth and nail to put parents back in control of their children's education of their children's education while also defending parents against Biden's DOJ targeting. And we will continue to hold the Biden Administration accountable for the problems it has caused, including the chaos at the border and rising inflation costs.

As we head into this Christmas season, I think it's important to note that the Biden Administration is ending the year how it started this term – by trying to trample on your liberties through government overreach. Right now, President Biden is still trying to implement vaccine and mask mandates on you and your children. And bureaucrats like Dr. Fauci are trying to cancel Christmas for many Americans, like he does before every holiday nowadays.

Christmas will never be canceled, and we should never let the government determine whether you can gather with family and friends. You can be sure that I will continue to hold power hungry bureaucrats accountable for their continued efforts to take away your freedoms.

Looking ahead to 2022, I am confident that we will overcome many of the current obstacles our nation faces. Despite the Radical Left's best efforts, I know North Carolinians are still standing strong for liberty. I am especially reminded of that as we gather for this holiday season.

I am grateful for Americans like you, and it is my sincere hope that you have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Are you spending Christmas with your family this year?

OSHA's Unconstitutional Vaccine Mandate

Before the Christmas season officially begins, I wanted to take a moment to discuss the recent news concerning OSHA's unconstitutional vaccine mandate on private employers. Last Friday, the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals overturned a ruling from the Fifth Circuit, which will pave the way for Biden's unconstitutional employer vaccine mandate to go into effect.

TWEET: Supreme Court must stop OSHA from writing its own laws

The case will likely go to the Supreme Court now, where I hope our Justices do the right thing for the American people and strike down this unconstitutional mandate. The problem with OSHA's new rule is that they are not lawmakers and therefore have no authority to write their own laws. American workers should be able to have freedom to make their own healthcare choices, and American employers shouldn't have to pay fines for who they decide to hire.

It is not President Biden's, or any government bureaucrat's, business whether you are vaccinated or not. Your liberties are not granted to you on some conditional basis. This is non-negotiable. I will always continue to fight for you against this new form of tyranny.

Are you having vaccine mandate trouble? My office is here to help!

Sincerely,

Dan Bishop
