#LightItBlue

The blue flag is one that no racer wants to see. It's a signal to move out of the way for the approaching leaders.

But blue has a different meaning for INDYCAR during these trying, uncertain times. It's a signal to band together, to #LightItBlue to support dedicated essential workers and heroic healthcare professionals leading the fight against COVID-19.

And that's exactly what so many within our community are doing to help. From teams and partners shifting production to ventilators and face masks to the selfless dedication of first responders who are as essential to racing as fuel and tires, you are leading the way.

United as one team, we will stay on the lead lap in this fight.
Driving forward together, we will win.
