Part VIII - Relationship of Activities to Accomplishment of Exempt Purposes

Statement 14

Line	Explanation of Relationship of Activities
93a	Travel tours further the public education mission of the Smithsonian. The tours are formal educational programs, which provide intensive study in the subject matter of the tour, including daily lectures, readings and related activity. Classes further the public education mission of the Smithsonian by providing instruction to the public in the arts, sciences and history and in subjects relating to its collections and research. Traveling exhibits further the public education mission of the Smithsonian by bringing Smithsonian exhibits to local museums.
93c	The subjects of the films displayed in the Air and Space and Natural History museums are related to the collections and exhibitions in those museums, and further the Smithsonian's mission of educating its visitors in subjects related to its collections and research.
93e	When appropriate the Smithsonian lends objects from its collection to other organizations and collects premium and administrative costs for providing coverage under Smithsonian Institution blanket collection policy for objects on loan. Collections are held for public exhibition, education, or research, furthering the Smithsonian mission. Proceeds from sales following deaccessions are reflected as increases to the appropriate net asset class, and are designated for future collection acquisitions.
94	Members receive such benefits as a Smithsonian monthly magazine, special rates for classes, discounts at museum shops and the mail order catalogue, and other benefits of an educational nature, encouraging them to participate fully in the educational and cultural life of the Smithsonian Institution.
102	In its museum shops and through its catalogues, the Smithsonian offers for sale a wide range of reproductions and adaptations of objects in its collections and exhibits, as well as other educational items that are related to its educational mission.

Schedule A	Explanation of Qualifications to Receive Payments	Statement 18
	Part III, Line 3a

Smithsonian fellowships and grants are open to all qualified individuals without reference to race, color, religion, sex and condition of handicap or age of applicant. Candidates are evaluated on the scholarly merit of their proposals, their ability to carry out the proposed research and study; likelihood that the research can be completed during the requested appointment period; and the extent to which the Smithsonian, through its research staff members and resources, can contribute to the proposed research project.

Schedule A	Statement of Lobbying Activities - Part VI-B	Statement 19
------------	--	--------------

The Smithsonian Institution engaged in lobbying activities to solicit support for capital improvements and educational programs for the Cooper-Hewitt National Design Museum and the National Museum of the American Indian in New York City. Funds are being solicited from various agencies represented by both New York City and New York State. Representatives of the respective Smithsonian Institution museums met directly with public officials on a limited number of occasions to discuss public funding for capital improvements and educational programs, and the value of staff time spent in such meetings and preparing for such meetings in fiscal year 2008 was approximately $1,200.00.
