Subject: Correction to the North American Model (NAM) Model Output Statistics (MOS) ceiling thresholds, to be implemented on or about Monday, September 21, 2020

The Meteorological Development Laboratory (MDL) noticed an error in the NAM MOS ceiling thresholds, which has been causing erroneous or missing values at several sites for the 18 and 21 hour projections. These thresholds have been corrected and the issue resolved. This change will take effect on or about Monday, September 21, 2020, with the 1200 UTC model cycle time.

For questions concerning these changes to the NAM MOS guidance, please contact:
