

What can I do on DisasterAssistance.gov?

- Look up your address to see if it's in a federally declared disaster area.
- Search for and learn about different types of assistance you may qualify for.
- Find information that can help you learn how to prepare for, respond to, and recover from the effects of a disaster.

Find Helpful Information

If you need immediate assistance, you can:

- Find resources in your community.
- Get help with immediate needs and shelters.
- Search for Disaster Recovery Centers (DRCs).
- Stay informed with disaster-related news.
- Read about our mission and background, and learn more about our partners.

Apply for Disaster Assistance

You'll need the following information to apply:

- Personal information (address, Social Security number, contact information, etc.)
- Household income
- Insurance information
- Bank account information (to deposit funds into your account)

When you apply, you will be able to:

- Answer questions about disaster damage.
- Choose how you get messages about disaster assistance.
- Get referrals to other agencies that can help.

Create & Manage Your Online Account

After you apply for assistance, create an online account to:

- Check the status of your application.
- Upload documents.
- Read messages about your application.
- Update your personal information.

NEED HELP?

Search our FAQs to find answers to common questions, read about our policies, and find the contacts you may need.

To apply by phone or if you have questions, call: 1-800-621-3362 (711 available). If you use a video relay service (VRS), captioned telephone (CTS), or other service, give FEMA your number for that service.
